

A messenger of God

---

You are a messenger; you are an instrument of God. Every action of yours exemplifies what God is. When we align with God, we become His messengers, His workers. We become show pieces of His mastery, courage, and become lustrous, beautiful individuals. When many such individuals come, we reveal to the world, we are one. The realisation that we all come from one God is revealed to the masses.

There is no hierarchy, no official fiefdom. All are welcome to be a part of this group. We have one common rule, one pre-requisite, “Know that you are God”.

As His co-workers, we follow His direction. He is the perfect task master. He knows our abilities, and what is best for us and what we can deliver best. He assigns us with tasks only to bring the best out of us.

It is time you realise that you too are His instrument. You came here to carry out His work, not yours. There is no such thing which you'd want to do to yourself which He is not already doing to you!

Allow God to flood his rewards of love through you. Why do you want to give yourself the trickle of energy you call your monthly salary? Allow Him to fill in the figures. You just do His work. Do you think you have to pray to remind Him of his duty? Not necessary.

He is here only for you, not for Himself! The only way He can get rewarded is when you follow His guidelines and when you allow Him to be yours, when you accept Him and love Him unconditionally.

Do not lose your faith in Him. Faith is healing. We all, as bodies, need healing. This healing comes from aligning with Him.

He is the source and He is the destination. The journey from Him and to Him is inward. When you take on this illusory journey, He prepares several experiences for you to learn from. He rewards you for each learning you go through. When you learn, you return with even more love. If you did not return with all the love you could fathom, He sends you back to fill yourself.

He has only one purpose – to see you as Him.

So, prepare yourself to be His instrument, His messenger. There is no greater gift you can give to Him then to be His messenger and do what you have come here to do.

A candle can share its light when it allows itself to be lit. Be the candle of god to shed His light. Allow Him to brighten the world through you.

This is your real mission. This is your true life purpose. Begin now.

Love

As directed by Him and written by His instrument as Mahesh Krishnamurthy